Attention to the proposals of the population, a matter that requires more speed in its solution, centered this afternoon the debate of the Municipal Assembly of People's Power in Isla de la Juventud, during the XI extraordinary session corresponding to the seventeenth period of mandate.

In this sense, the main dissatisfactions are related to the water supply, housing conservation actions, communal hygiene and the deplorable physical state in which the streets are still after the investment of Hydraulic Resources in the aqueduct network of the head city. Based on the accountability of the Municipal Administration Council (CAM) during 2020, several delegates demanded that the management of that body be more demanding of those managers of entities with aging approaches, whose processing depends on alternatives or the popular participation.

The CAM as executor should be more dynamic, the problems identified rank them in the work plan, control and supervise the entities responsible for solving the problems or concerns for being public servants, suggested Luis Pantoja, district delegate.

Adiel Morera, municipal mayor, acknowledged that the issue of attention to the proposals is evidently -for the locals- a pending issue, a process in which rigor has been lacking in the analysis of the Boards of Directors with responsibility in its solution.

In the midst of an adverse epidemiological scenario, aggravated by the intensification of the economic, commercial and financial blockade of the United States against Cuba, the CAM worked intensely in the year being evaluated in the update of the Comprehensive Development Program (2021-2030) , an opportunity to ultimately increase the standard of living of the population, he said.

He emphasized that this project will be viable with the reactivation of the productive forces, the use of science, technology and innovation, local development initiatives, the generation of jobs, the realization of the housing program and the achievement of food sovereignty, based on territorial self-sufficiency.

Liván Fuentes, president of the Municipal Assembly, urged the CAM to work boldly to increase the quality of public management, improve the state of the financial situation of the territory, apply the internal self-control guide, achieve the productive chain, complete the reserve of cadres and apply collective management methods.
